

INVITATION

ELTE Faculty of Law cordially invites you to a lecture held by Dr. Luigi Lonardo, entitled:

The role of the EU and the CFSP in the Ukrainian war

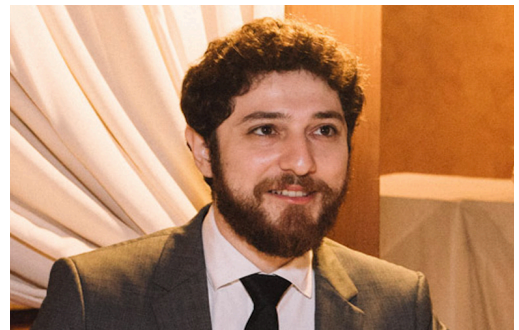

Date: 12 April 2023 14:00

Venue: Room A/1 (GF. 3.)

Abstract:

The lecture will draw from Dr. Lonardo's book Russia 2022 War against Ukraine and the EU Foreign Policy Reaction to analyse how the war has affected the fragile security architecture established in Europe after the end of the Cold War. With an interdisciplinary perspective drawing from Russian studies, international relations, and law, the lecture delves into topics such as the EU diplomatic response to the war, the Ukrainian application for membership of the EU, and the question of the future role of Russia in the security system of the continent.

Short bio: Dr. Luigi Lonardo is a lecturer in EU law at University College Cork, Ireland, and a visiting lecturer in European Foreign Security and Defence Policy at Sciences Po in Paris, France. He is the author of EU Common Foreign and Security Policy after Lisbon: Between Law and Geopolitics (2022) and Russia 2022 War against Ukraine and the EU Foreign Policy Reaction (2023).
